2020 Online DATABASES
Introduction

For more than 25 years, Brepols Publishers has been developing high-value databases in the field of Humanities. Since 2001, these databases are available online on a platform called BREPOLiS.

At the moment, BREPOLiS offers seven bibliographic databases, four encyclopaedias, eight full-text databases and four stand-alone databases.

One of Brepols’ main fields of interest is Medieval Studies. We have created an unparalleled medieval environment where we bring together key resources for the study of the Middle Ages with bibliographies on the one hand, and with encyclopaedias on the other. Two clusters are available, including “live links”:

- Brepolis Medieval Bibliographies gathers together the International Medieval Bibliography, the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale.

- Brepolis Medieval Encyclopaedias gathers together the Lexikan des Mittelalters, the International Encyclopaedia for the Middle Ages and Europa Sacra.

The other strength of Brepols lies in the study of Latin language and Literature as we offer the world’s leading databases in this field. Brepols has created a Latin environment where we bring together recent Latin texts editions and Latin dictionaries:

- The cluster Brepolis Latin Complete gathers together the Library of Latin Texts, the Monumenta Germaniae Historica, the Archive of Celtic-Latin Literature, the Aristoteles Latinus Database, and the Database of Latin Dictionaries. The Cross Database Search tool allows the user to search these databases simultaneously.

- A last cluster of databases is dedicated to Religious Studies and Church History and includes the Index Religiosus, the Dictionnaire d’histoire et de géographie ecclésiastiques, and the Bishops of the Holy Roman Empire (Bischöfe des Heiligen Römischen Reiches).

Not content with having developed such tools, we are still working to further improve these databases and to make new tools available to the international community of scholars. The four most recent databases are Clavis Clavium, Sources Chrétiennes Online, the Bibliographie annuelle du moyen âge tardif, and the Dictionnaire des philosophes antiques.
Clavis Clavium, or ‘Key of Keys’, is the go-to database to access Late Antique and Medieval Christian literature. It incorporates the almost 8,000 pages of data found in six so-called claves: the Clavis Patrum Latinorum and the Bibliotheca Hagiographica Latina, the Clavis Patrum Graecorum and the Bibliotheca Hagiographica Graeca, the Clavis Apocryphorum Veteris Testamenti and the Clavis Apocryphorum Novi Testamenti. Together, these six indispensable tools provide researchers working on the extensive field of Early Christian, Medieval and Byzantine literature with essential information regarding authorship, authenticity, chronological and geographical contexts, manuscript transmission, and editorial history.

Now, with the creation of the Clavis Clavium database, researchers can for the first time access this enormous mass of printed data in an integrated and accessible way. The database allows all four claves to be searched together, for maximum efficiency, and it offers huge versatility through search options that can combine different categories (e.g. title, incipit, desinit, author, or saint). Continuously updated (after peer review) with material brought together by specialists in the field, the Clavis Clavium is a dynamic research tool that will continue to be expanded and updated in the future as new claves and material are added, and by serving as a gateway to other (third-party) information and functionalities.

Essential Research Tool

The Clavis Clavium will be an essential research tool for historians, theologians, philologists, and philosophers.

Related Databases

- The database is an essential gateway to other full-text databases available on BREPOLIS, such as Library of Latin Texts or Sources Chrétiennes Online.

Key Features

- Presents the mass of printed data in an integrated and accessible way: no more comparing different claves to gather all available information about one and the same text or author
- Versatile: you pick the way you want to access the data (via title, incipit, desinit, author, saint, … or via a combination of two or more of these categories)
- Continuously updated: no more waits for a new printed update. ClaCl is continuously updated – not, as in the past, by one or two scholars, but by a host of specialists, whose contributions are subjected to peer review
- Ever-expanding: the list of claves we plan to add in the future is long, e.g. Clavis Patristica Pseudepigraphorum Medii Aevi, Théologie Byzantine, Traditio Patrum, …
From its inception in 1942, the “Sources Chrétienes” series (based in Lyon and published by Éditions du Cerf in Paris) has provided critical editions of texts from the first 1,400 years of the Church, accompanied by a French translation as well as an introduction and notes. More precisely, the series consists of editions-with-translations of Christian texts in Greek and Latin, but also in oriental languages, such as Syriac, Aramaic and Georgian. Whereas it has always been the series’ mission to make the texts at hand easily accessible for consultation and (linguistic, historical, philosophical and theological) study, Sources Chrétienes Online even expands the possibilities in this regard. Reserving the introduction, apparatus and notes for the printed series, the online database makes it possible to select texts along various criteria and to perform targeted searches both on the source texts and on the French translations that over the years have been published in the series.

Key Features

- Online version of the Sources Chrétienes series
- Texts in Greek, Latin, Syriac, Aramaic and Georgian
- French translations
- 200 volumes available at launch
- 100 volumes added per year
- Both the source texts and the translations are searchable
- Multiple filters allow for targeted searches

- For patristic texts see also the full-text databases Library of Latin Texts and Patrologia Orientalis Database.
The project was started in 1991 as the Cetedoc Library of Christian Latin Texts, CLCLT, under the direction of Prof. Paul Tombreur. From 2009 onwards, the database is known as the Library of Latin Texts, the world’s leading database for Latin texts.

The new name Library of Latin Texts refers to the expansion of the chronological limits that were originally set, as well as to the broadening of its horizon which now integrates the initial Christian outlook into a general cultural perspective. The aim is to offer a database that continues to expand and aims to comprise not only Latin literature from the patristic and medieval periods but also from Antiquity and the early-modern and modern eras. The Library of Latin Texts gathers Latin texts of all genres and all periods. Great importance is attached to translations, essentially from Greek originals, into Latin.

With regard to this corpus, the objective of the database can be summarised in the brief sentence: “Who said what, when, where, and how many times?”

The textual material integrated into the database forms the first of the two pillars on which the Library of Latin Texts is built, the other one being a rich pool of sophisticated search tools.

Content

Literature from Antiquity

The first chronological part of the database comprises the entire corpus of Latin literature from Classical Antiquity up to the second century AD. (opera omnia of Plautus, Terence, Caesar, Cicero, Virgil, Horace, Ovid, Titus-Livius, the Senecas, the two Plinys, Tacitus, Quintilian and the others). The texts from this section come essentially from the Bibliotheca scriptorum Romanorum Teubneriana / Bibliotheca Teubneriana Latina 1 (© Walter de Gruyter).

Literature from Patristic Authors

The second chronological part of the databases comprises the patristic Latin literature that starts around 200 A.D. with Tertullian and ends with the death of the Venerable Bede in 735.

It offers the complete works of important patristic writers such as Ambrose, Augustine, Ausonius, Cassian, Cyprian, Magnus Felix Ennodius, Gregory the Great, Jerome, Marius Victorinus, Novatian, Paulinus of Nola, Prudentius, Rufinus of Aquileia, Salvian, Tertullian, Victor of Vita, the Latin translations of the Apostolic Fathers, and many rich corpora of authors such as Boethius, Cassiodorus, Eucherius of Lyon, Gennadius of Massilia, Hilary of Poitiers, Idefonsus of Toledo, Isidore, and Bede. It also contains non-Christian literature of that period, by authors such as Ammianus Marcellinus, Claudian, Macrobius, Martianus Capella, or the Scriptores Historiae Augustae. This second part also contains the complete critical text of the Latin Bible according to the Vulgate, the corpus of Latin Pseudepigrapha of the Old Testament, and the Decrees of the Ecumenical Councils of Late Antiquity.

The LLT is the reference database for Latin texts, offering texts from the beginnings of Latin literature down to the present day.

In total, the present version of the LLT contains more than 128 million Latin words, drawn from almost 11,000 works (including 5,800 diplomatic charters) that are attributed to approximately 1,850 authors.

The texts are selected from the best editions available and when possible established according to best contemporary scholarly practice. Great efforts have been undertaken to verify facts relating to the text, such as the veracity of the authorial attribution or the dating. The printed text has often been enhanced by correcting detected typographical errors. In order to isolate, as far as possible, the words proper to each work, a distinction is made between the original text and the “paratextual” elements.
Literature from the Middle Ages (736-1500)

The medieval literature in the database comprises Latin literature after 735 and includes a large number of texts up to 1500.

This part of the database contains more than 83 million words and continues to develop. It includes the complete works of many medieval authors such as Anselm of Canterbury, Beatus of Liebana, Bernard of Clairvaux, Rupert of Deutz, Sedulius Scottus, Thomas Aquinas, Thomas a Kempis, Thomas of Celano or William of St. Thierry. It also includes the Sentences and the Commentaries on the Pauline epistles of Peter Lombard, the Rationale of Guillaume Durand and important works by Abelard, Bonaventure, Hildegard of Bingen, Hugh of Saint Victor, Jan Hus, Ramon Llull, William of Ockham, Walter of Châtillon’s Alexandreis, an important collection of hagiographical texts and of liturgical works, a huge corpus of works related to the beginnings of the Franciscan order, and many others.

Neo-Latin Literature (1501-1965)

This part of the database already contains almost 12 million words and continues to develop.

It includes, for instance, the decrees from the modern ecumenical Church councils up to Vatican II, the Latin translations of John of Ruusbroec made by the German Carthusian Laurentius Surius, important Latin works of René Descartes, Lipsius’ De constantia, the Christianae religionis institutio of Calvin (according to the edition of 1559), poetical works by Joachim du Bellay and by the Jesuit Jacob Balde, the epic Colombus poem of Ubertino Carrara SJ, the complete works of Lawrence of Brindisi, and many others...

Related Databases

- The interface is the same as Brepols full-text databases (Monumenta Germaniae Historica, Archive of Celtic-Latin Literature and Aristoteles Latinus Database)
- Links to the Database of Latin Dictionaries (a user can select a word found in a text of LLT and automatically find entries on the word in the constituent dictionaries of the Database of Latin Dictionaries)
- By using the Cross Database Search tool, LLT can be searched online together with the Monumenta Germaniae Historica, the Archive of Celtic-Latin Literature and the Aristoteles Latimus Database
- The cluster Brepolis Latin Complete includes all Latin full-text databases and dictionaries

Key Features

- Contains more than 5,200 texts
- Academic partner: Centre ‘Traditio Litterarum Occidentalium’
- Updated yearly with new material
- Interface in English, French, German and Italian
- The powerful search-software enables the users to undertake enhanced search possibilities:
  - by using wildcards and Booleans operators, the user can construct complex search queries
  - filters are used when, instead of searching through the entire data set, one wishes to restrict the search to a particular Author or group of Authors, a particular Work, a particular Period or Century

Recently Added Texts

Erasmus’ Correspondence, Spinoza’s main works, Martin Luther’s Ninety-five Theses and various other works, Peter Abelard’s Logica and various other works, Francis Bacon’s Novum organum, Meister Eckhart’s Commentary on John and various other works, Denis the Carthusian’s Commentary on the Psalms, the recently published Sermons of Augustine, etc.
The Monumenta Germaniae Historica was founded in 1819 by the Gesellschaft für Deutschlands ältere Geschichtskunde. It is without doubt one of the most prestigious editorial undertakings for the critical publication of medieval historical texts.

In more than 300 volumes, covering the widest possible range of historical documents, divided into five major Series (Scriptores, Leges, Diplomata, Epistolae and Antiquitates) and into 33 Subseries, the Monumenta not only continues its editorial programme but it has established for all Western scholarship a standard for critical editions.

The powerful search engine developed by the Centre ‘Traditio Litterarum Occidenta- lium’ and Brepols Publishers allows unparalleled exploitation of this important body of texts, permitting in-depth searches of the corpus.

Key Features

- The eMGH contains more than 3,700 texts
- The database is updated yearly with new material. As a general rule, precedence is given to narrative sources
- The powerful search-software enables the users to undertake enhanced search possibilities:
  - by using wildcards and operators, the user can construct complex search queries
  - filters are used when, instead of searching through the entire data set, one wishes to restrict the search to a particular Author or group of Authors, a particular Work, a particular Period or Century
- Interface in English, French, German and Italian
- Advanced search capacities for the eMGH are combined with the possibility of accessing the digital version of each text. Thus, from each search result, a link to the digital version of the corresponding page (along with its critical apparatus) is offered

Related Databases

- The integration of the eMGH into the Brepolis Latin platform offers the opportunity to carry out searches simultaneously with other collections of texts bringing together a total of almost 10,000 works (eMGH, Library of Latin Texts, Aristoteles Latinus Database, Archive of Celtic-Latin Literature), and allows the user to search Latin reference dictionaries (Database of Latin Dictionaries)
- The cluster Brepolis Latin Complete includes all Latin full-text databases and dictionaries
The critical edition of the Medieval Latin Aristotle is one of the main projects supervised and supported by the Union Académique Internationale / International Union of Academies. The most important objective of the project is to bring to scholarly attention the various forms in which Aristotle’s texts came to be read in the West. The Latin versions of these texts constituted the main tools for the study of science and philosophy in the Middle Ages. They were considered as being the canonized littera to which all the commentaries on Aristotle’s works referred. The role played by these translations in the development of the Western philosophical and scientific terminology can thus hardly be overestimated. All the texts that have been critically edited in the series Aristoteles Latinus are now available online together with the texts not yet available in a critical edition.

Aristoteles Latinus Database (ALD)

The complete corpus of medieval translations of the works of Aristotle

Key Features

- Academic partners: International Union of Academies, Aristoteles Latinus Centre (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven) and Centre ‘Traditio Litterarum Occidentalium’
- The texts constitute the main tools for the study of science and philosophy in the Middle Ages
- Interface in English, French, German and Italian
- The powerful search-software enables the users to undertake enhanced search possibilities:
  - by using wildcards and Booleans operators, the user can construct complex search queries
  - filters are used when, instead of searching through the entire data set, one wishes to restrict the search to a particular Author or group of Authors, a particular Work, a particular Period or Century

In the early Middle Ages, literate individuals in and from the Celtic periphery of Europe (Ireland, Wales, Brittany, Cornwall, Scotland and the Isle of Man) wrote many and varied Latin works constituting what can arguably be seen as a distinctive literature, whose unusual vocabulary, grammar and phrasing (to say nothing of subject-matter) made it into what has been called “one of the most curious and interesting phenomena of medieval philology”.

Subject Areas

This database contains more than five hundred Latin works by over a hundred known and unknown authors, spanning the fields of theology, liturgy, computistics, grammar, hagiography, poetry and historiography, and including legal texts, charters, inscriptions, etc.

Related Databases

- The interface is the same as other Brepols full-text databases (Library of Latin Texts, Monumenta Germaniae Historica and Aristoteles Latinus Database) and the Cross Database Search Tool allows the user to search all of these databases together
- Live links to the Database of Latin Dictionaries: a user can select a word found in a text of ACLL and automatically find entries on the word in the constituent dictionaries of the Database of Latin Dictionaries
- The cluster Brepolis Latin Complete includes all Latin full-text databases and dictionaries

Key Features

- Contains more than 500 texts
- Academic partners: Royal Irish Academy and Centre ‘Traditio Litterarum Occidentalium’
- Interface in English, French, German and Italian
- Possibility to find a text based on a Lapidge & Sharpe reference (L&S)
- The powerful search-software enables the users to undertake enhanced search possibilities:
  - by using wildcards and Boolean operators, the user can construct complex search queries
  - filters are used when, instead of searching through the entire data set, one wishes to restrict the search to a particular Author or group of Authors, a particular Work, a particular Period or Century
Because of its broad spectrum of dictionaries, the Database of Latin Dictionaries (DLD) offers an immediate overview of Latin vocabulary that no isolated dictionary can give. In order to cover all possible perspectives on Latin vocabulary, the DLD offers several kinds of dictionaries: defining and translating, thematic, medieval and early modern. Therefore, the DLD is a major tool both for students learning Latin and for experienced scholars.

The interface provides first-time users with a simple search option, while the more experienced can explore the advanced search possibilities where all kinds of words or expressions, Latin or Non-Latin, can be the object of complex queries using various criteria, singly or in combination.

Starting in 2005 with only two dictionaries, it has now grown into a large collection of 23 dictionaries. Each year at least one dictionary is added and various improvements are made to the existing ones. These improvements can be corrections to the original text, increased search possibilities or the addition of newly published addenda. The DLD strives to give its users the best and most up-to-date information.

Related Databases

- The DLD provides links to the full-text databases (Library of Latin Texts, Monumenta Germaniae Historica, Aristoteles Latinus Database and Archive of Celtic-Latin Literature)
- The cluster Brepolis Latin Complete includes all Latin full-text databases and dictionaries

Key Features

- 23 Dictionaries available
- Academic responsibility: Centre ‘Traditio Litterarum Occidentalium’
- Multilingual interface (English, French, German and Italian)
- Search by Latin dictionary headwords or by non-Latin words (English, French, Spanish, Italian or German)
- The DLD includes the Dictionary of Medieval Latin from British Sources (DMLBS).
- The DMLBS provides online access to the complete printed version (©The British Academy, final fascicle published in December 2013)
- The database presents the vocabulary of the Latin language as written in Britain and by Britons abroad from Gildas (AD 540) to Camden (1600).
The Patrologia Orientalis Database (POD) is a collection of patristic texts from the Christian East, including works, recorded in non-Latin languages, that come from geographical, cultural, or religious contexts somehow linked to Rome or the Eastern Roman Empire.

This initial version of the database allows users to access texts included in the Patrologia Orientalis (PO) series in two forms: the original text, available as a PDF file, and a searchable translation. The user can search for items (such as keywords or quotes) in the language into which a text was translated in the PO. All the texts in the PO are searchable, and the reader can check the translation with the original text visible alongside as a non-searchable PDF file.

Key Features

- Contains the 234 fascicles published in the Patrologia Orientalis series
- Each text is provided in its original language and in translation
- Translations are searchable (Syriac, Armenian, Arabic, Coptic, Ge’ez, Georgian, and Slavonic)
- Numerous filters (author, title, subject, language, etc.)
- Multilingual interface (English, French, German, and Italian)

Related Databases

- For patristic texts see also Library of Latin Texts (full-text database), Sources Chrétiennes Online (full-text database including French translation), and Répertoire des traductions françaises des Pères de l’Eglise (repertorium).
This database, published in collaboration with the IRHT, forms an answer to the challenge raised by the proliferation of the current bibliography, by focusing on two criteria: the speed of the data extraction and the analytical quality of the records.

The database provides an up-to-date bibliography with very little timelag. It is a bibliography about late medieval authors and texts, and includes the manuscripts cited in catalogues by library collections, by genres, or by authors as well as in editions or other studies.

Key Features

- Online version of the Bibliographie Annuelle du Moyen Âge Tardif (Brepols Publishers, 1992-)
- More than 110,000 bibliographic records
- Annual updates
- Partner: the Institut de Recherche et d’Histoire des Textes (Paris)
- Numerous search fields

Related Databases

- For other medieval and early modern bibliographies, see the International Medieval Bibliography (IMB), the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale (BCM), and the International Bibliography of Humanism and the Renaissance (IBHR).
- Another useful research tool for the study of the writers, texts and manuscripts of Antiquity, the Middle Ages, and the Renaissance is In Principio, the incipit index of Latin texts.
- For the study of Latin texts, see also the full-text database Library of Latin Texts.
L’Année philologique, published by the Société Internationale de Bibliographie Classique, is a specialized bibliographic database of scholarly works relating to all aspects of Ancient Greek and Roman civilizations. The bibliography is published in print and online. The online database includes all volumes of the annual index, beginning with Volume I published in 1928. Both the online and print publications are now available via Brepols Publishers.

Key Features

- Broad coverage of publications related to Antiquity, including Late Antiquity
- More than 860,000 bibliographic records and 510,000 review references
- About 14,000 records added annually
- More than 1,000 journals indexed
- Records include abstracts for articles, citations of reviews for monographs, and tables of contents for edited volumes
- Multiple search fields: author, title, year of publication, subject, etc.
- DOI links to the full text of a book or article
- Several export formats (EndNote, Zotero, RefWorks, Microsoft Office Word)
- Multi-lingual interface
- Metrics component that enables users to examine in detail trends in Classics, see journal profiles (e.g., information on subjects and periods covered), and find authors’ publication profiles
- Compatible with OpenURL, facilitating linkage to full text
- Email alerts

Subject Areas

L’Année philologique covers a wide array of subjects, including Greek and Latin literature and linguistics—which includes early Christian texts and patristics—Greek and Roman history, art, archaeology, philosophy, religion, mythology, music, science, and scholarly subspecialties such as numismatics, papyrology, and epigraphy.

Abstracts of journal articles are provided in English, German, Spanish, French, or Italian. Book entries may include tables of contents and book review information.

Related Databases

- Live links to ancient authors and texts in the Library of Latin Texts published by Brepols and to external full-text resources on the Classical Works Knowledge Base, including PHI Classical Texts, Perseus Digital Library, and Thesaurus Linguae Graecae.
The International Medieval Bibliography was founded in 1967 with the support of the Medieval Academy of America, with the aim of providing a comprehensive, current bibliography of articles in journals and miscellany volumes (conference proceedings, essay collections or Fest-schriften) worldwide. Its editorial staff is based at the Institute for Medieval Studies at the University of Leeds, and the project is supported by over 50 teams of contributors in Europe, North America, Australia and Japan. The International Medieval Bibliography comprises 480,000 articles, all of which are fully classified by date, subject and location, and provide full bibliographical records. The IMB offers an unparalleled tool for medievalists to identify the contents of current work published throughout Europe, the Americas and the Asia-Pacific region.

Subject Areas

The research areas to which the IMB is relevant include Classics, English Language and Literature, History and Archaeology, Theology and Philosophy, Medieval European Languages and Literatures, Arabic and Islamic Studies, History of Education, Art History, Music, Theatre and Performance Arts, Rhetoric and Communication Studies.

Related Databases

• Live links to the Lexicon des Mittelalters and the International Encyclopaedia for the Middle Ages.

• The IMB shares the same interface as Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale (BCM) and International Bibliography of Humanism and the Renaissance (IBHR), enabling simultaneous cross-database searching of more than 900,000 records.

• Together, L’année philologique (covering Antiquity), the IMB, the BCM and the IBHR cover more than 3,000 years of human history.
The Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale has been established by the Centre d’Études Supérieures de Civilisation Médiévale (Université de Poitiers) and aims to provide a comprehensive, current bibliography of monographs worldwide and listings of miscellanea volumes (conference proceedings, essay collections or Festschriften). The Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale currently comprises more than 65,000 titles from 1958 to 2019; i.e. the whole of the relevant elements from the famous bibliography in the Cahiers de civilisation médiévale. Every reference has been fully classified by date, subject and location, and provides full bibliographical records.

Subject Areas

The disciplines to which the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale is relevant include all aspects of History, Language and Literature, Philosophy and Theology, Art History, Archaeology, and so forth in the Western, Byzantine and Islamic worlds.

Related Databases

- Fully integrated with the International Medieval Bibliography and the International Bibliography of Humanism and the Renaissance, users can either search the bibliographical records of all three databases simultaneously or select only one of the three bibliographies.
- Live links to the Lexikon des Mittelalters and the International Encyclopaedia for the Middle Ages.
The International Bibliography of Humanism and the Renaissance (IBHR) is the international reference bibliography of academic publications on the Renaissance and the early modern period. The IBHR is a continuation of the Bibliographie internationale de l’Humanisme et de la Renaissance, coordinated and published by Librairie Droz since 1965. Brepols acquired the rights to the bibliography in 2013 and has since been working on updating the content, extending the coverage, and building new software to support the online edition of the bibliography.

Key Features

- More than 410,000 bibliographic records
- 20,000 records added annually
- 900 journals regularly checked
- A comprehensive cataloguing and indexing system, using familiar, multilingual terminology
- English and French thesaurus
- Numerous search fields: author, title, year of publication, subject, etc.
- Several export formats (EndNote, Zotero, RefWorks, Microsoft Office Word)
- Multi-lingual interface
- Compatible with OpenURL, facilitating linkage to full text
- DOI links
- Email alerts

Subject Areas

The bibliography focuses on European history and culture and encompasses a broad spectrum of subjects, ranging from religious history through to philosophy, science and the arts; and from military and political history through to social and gender studies.

Related Databases

- The IBHR shares the same interface as the International Medieval Bibliography (IMB) and the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale (BCM), enabling simultaneous cross-database searching of more than 900,000 bibliographic records. Together, they cover 14 centuries of European history from 300 to 1700.

- Together, L’année philologique (covering Antiquity), the IMB, the BCM and the IBHR cover more than 3,000 years of human history.
The Index Religiosus endeavours to become the international reference bibliography for academic publications in Theology and Religious Studies. It covers publications written in various European languages (English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Dutch, etc.) and is the result of collaboration between the Catholic University of Louvain and the KU Leuven, which are both recognized internationally for their excellence in the field of Theology and Religious Studies.

The new bibliography begins from the basis of two existing bibliographies: the bibliography of the Revue d’histoire ecclésiastique and the Elenchus Bibliographicus from the journal Ephemerides Theologicae Lovanienses. These two tools are internationally recognized as essential working instruments for Theology and Religious Studies.

Since January 2014, the printed version of the bibliography of the Revue d’histoire ecclésiastique and the Elenchus Bibliographicus have been replaced by the Index Religiosus.

Key Features

- More than 630,000 bibliographic records and 140,000 review references are searchable
- More than 20,000 new records every year
- Over 1,000 journals systematically checked
- Multilingual Interface (English, French, Spanish, Italian and German)
- Indexing in English and French
- Extensive search possibilities (Author, Title, Year of Publication, ISBN / ISSN, Geographic Area, Discipline, Period, Keyword, Person, etc.).
- Ability to query the database from Bible Verses, the Tenets of Canon Law, or the Dead Sea Scrolls
- Several export formats (Endnote, Microsoft Office Word, Refworks, Zotero, etc.).
- Ability to create email alerts with notification of new publications
- Compatible with OpenURL, facilitating linking to full-text
- DOI links to articles in journals and miscellany volumes
- Links to Google books

The Bibliography of British and Irish History Online provides bibliographic data on historical writing dealing with the British Isles, and with the British empire and Commonwealth including the American colonies, during all periods for which written documentation is available - from 55BC to the present.

In addition to 600,000+ bibliographical records, BBIH offers links to online catalogues to help you find the items that it lists in research libraries in Britain and Ireland. It also provides links to the full text where available.

The bibliography is a guide to the work of historians - it does not contain original sources, unless they have been edited and republished by historians (except for a selection of key sources published before 1901).

The bibliography lists books, articles in books and articles in journals. Over 750 journals and series are regularly checked for new content.

Key Features

- More than 600,000 bibliographic records
- 12,000 records added annually
- Academic partners: The Royal Historical Society and the Institute of Historical Research
- Numerous search fields: author, title, year of publication, subject, place, precise date range, person, etc.
- Choice of simple or advanced search
- Auto-complete function
- Automatic counting of number of responses for each search term
- Several export formats (EndNote, RefWorks, Microsoft Office Word, Zotero)
- Multilingual interface (English, French, German, Spanish and Italian)
- Email alerts in order to stay up to date with new research
- Metrics component
- Embeddable search widget
- Compatible with OpenURL, facilitating linkage to full text
- Ability to find out more about people covered using the integrated links with the Oxford Dictionary of National Biography, the National Register of Archives and Who Was Who
- Also including links to British History Online, Reviews in History, H-Albion Reviews, Google Books, and COPAC

Related Databases

- Apart from BBIH, Brepols publishes a wide range of other online bibliographies: L’année philologique (covering Antiquity), the International Medieval Bibliography, the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale (covering the Middle Ages), and the International Bibliography of Humanism and the Renaissance (covering Early Modern History).
The Dictionnaire des philosophes antiques is devoted to philosophers and important witnesses of the Greek and Roman philosophical tradition, from the Presocratics to the late Neoplatonists of the sixth century. The articles, prepared by French and foreign scholars, make use not only of literary sources, but also of inscriptions and papyri. In total, 236 editors from 20 different countries have contributed to this unique and large-scale enterprise, which started its first volume in 1989 and consists of seven volumes — including a fifth volume in two parts — and a supplement.

Key Features

- Online version of the Dictionnaire des philosophes antiques (including the annexes and updates), published between 1989 and 2018 under the direction of Richard Goulet
- About 2,970 articles on ancient philosophers
- Available on BREPOLIS as a one-time purchase

Related Databases

The Lexikon des Mittelalters is an indispensable tool for medievalists across all disciplines. It deals with all branches of Medieval Studies and covers the period from 300 to 1500 AD for the whole of Europe and parts of Western Asia and North Africa. The ancient roots of Western civilisation, as well as neighbouring civilisations, such as the Byzantine, the Arabic and the Jewish, occupy a prominent position in the encyclopaedia. The information of the printed edition has been enriched by Brepols Publishers with English headwords and live links to a Cumulative Bibliography (via the International Medieval Bibliography and the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale). LexMA is fully integrated with the International Encyclopaedia for the Middle Ages – Supplement to LexMA, a new encyclopaedia offering supplements that complete or supplement the coverage already offered by LexMA.

Europa Sacra

The lists of bishops produced in Eubel’s Hierarchia catholica mediæ ævi. ab anno 1198 and Gams’ Series episcoporum ecclesiae catholicae still represent the most comprehensive tool for studying the prelates of the Church from the Early Church to the Early Modern Period. It contains prosopographical information on 30,000 bishops, archbishops and patriarchs.

The Dictionnaire d’histoire et de géographie ecclésiastiques Online (DHGE) is an unparalleled source of information for anyone interested in the history of the Church. The DHGE has a wide coverage, including all continents and the period spanning Antiquity to the present day. The Dictionnaire’s entries are divided into three distinct groups based on whether they deal with people, places or institutions.

The people that are included in the Dictionnaire are those who have played a role in the history of the Church either through their work or their writings. The second type of entry in the Dictionnaire deals with the Church’s geographic history. Independently of the religious history of each country, the entries alongside the maps provide a history of the ecclesiastical provinces, i.e. the dioceses. As far as possible, a complete list of the bishops of each diocese concludes each monograph. The history and development of abbeys, priories and famous religious places can also be found in the Dictionnaire and, here also, there is a list of the abbots, priors or superiors associated with each one. The last group are entries dedicated to the main ecclesiastical institutions described from a purely historical perspective.

Those who are interested in the writers, texts and manuscripts of Antiquity and the Middle Ages know how difficult it is to identify a particular work encountered by chance in a manuscript, or when studying or publishing a particular text, to make an inventory of all the manuscripts in which it appears.

The incipit or first words of a work thus remain the surest means of designating it unambiguously. In a sense, the incipit, by virtue of its invariability, is the identity card of the text. Standing apart from the diversity of attributions and titles, the incipit guarantees the presence of a particular text.

The incipit serves as a link between the text and the manuscript. The search software of In Principio enables to answer two main questions about the incipit:

- who is the author and what is the title of the text?
- which manuscripts contain the text?

Genres included

The database includes all literary genres: the liberal arts and theology, history and poetry, medicine and liturgy, civil law and canon law, the exact and occult sciences, summas and sermons, glossaries and correspondence, cooking recipes and cursing formulas, large treatises and small, isolated sentences.

Key Features

- Over 1.3 million records from three major institutions and libraries, supplemented with a growing number of individual collections
- Partners: the Institut de Recherche et d’Histoire des Textes, the Hill Museum & Manuscript Library and the Bibliothèque Nationale de France
- Approximately 25,000 new entries each year
- A search screen providing guidance by offering ten search fields that enable precise searching
- Multilingual search interface (English, French, German)
The Répertoire des traductions françaises des Pères de l’Église (RTF) is an indispensable tool for identifying and finding the translations of the works of Church Fathers. The about 12,000 index cards dedicated to the French translations of Latin, Greek, and Eastern Fathers are the work of Father Jacques Marcotte of Saint-Wandrille Abbey.

The RTF is a unique source of information for the religious literature of Antiquity and the beginning of the Middle Ages. Although some scholarly editions list the French translations (and those in other languages as well), none of them take into account the partial translations. The database offers for the first time a methodical census. Because of its scale, the RTF has no equivalent either in the French-speaking world or in any other linguistic region.

Professor Benoît Gain (Université de Grenoble Alpes), having read this repertoire in its entirety, has devoted himself to its promotion in order to facilitate scholarly research. In order to make its use easier, he has established a list of acronyms and abbreviations, and he has written a general presentation of the whole database.

Key Features

- An irreplaceable research tool for the study of the texts of the Greek, Latin and Eastern Fathers (from the second to the beginning of the ninth century)
- Gives all the references to complete translations of a work and translations of excerpts
- Contains 12,363 sheets:
  - Greek Fathers: 6,180
  - Latin Fathers: 3,836
  - Eastern Fathers: 1,700
  - Apocrypha: 647
- Search screen with several searchable fields (author, title, reference), allowing a precise search
- Search interface in two languages (French – English)
- Update foreseen in 2020

Subject Areas

Papal Letters provides striking information on the most varied aspects of medieval society: church institutions, the clergy, the papal states, politics, the legal system, taxation, government and finance, secular society, the religious life, intellectual and artistic life, the economy, wars, law and order, the environment and natural disasters, and daily life.

Vetus Latina Database (VLD)

Bible Versions of the Latin Fathers

The huge panoply of Latin biblical texts that were in existence and use from their first appearance in the second century AD until the time when, for each of the Bible books, one of them became predominant and unanimously accepted or “Vulgate”, are known as the Vetus Latina or Old Latin Bible. The direct textual tradition of the Vetus Latina is meager; due to the eventual success of the Vulgate, the older translations were no longer copied so that only a limited number of Bible manuscripts predating the Carolingian era are extant. Moreover, these often supply only fragments of the biblical story. As a result, the basic sources for the Old Latin Bible are the biblical citations or allusions found within the writings of the Latin Fathers or Greek patristic authors who were translated into Latin at an early date.

Key Features

- Contains the comprehensive patristic records of the Vetus Latina Institut in Beuron
- Over 800,000 biblical citations
- The complete repertorium of H.J. Frede (Kirchenschriftsteller-Verzeichnis und Sigel, Freiburg, 1995) can be consulted online within the application, as well as the repertorium’s regular updates by Professor Gryson
